True Coca Leaf Maxi

Model : Andina Real

martes 03 agosto, 2004

Manufacturer : Andina Real

Foil bag with ~ 2 lb (900 grams) of true, fresh and green coca leaves. Our leaves are from QUILLABAMBA VALLEY (Peru). This is the best coca leaf in South America. These leaves are hand-selected and we only use the best leaves. You'll find a product A1 grade.

Preparing the tea

Recipe 1.- By P. Mac Pherson (UK)

Within 20 minutes or so after a cup of this tea, I begin to feel a sense of well-being. I feel both relaxed and energetic at the same time. It helps a lot with my bowel pain and regulates BMs. It also helps me focus, in spite of my adult attention deficit disorder. I need very little of my prescription medication when I drink this tea. It is almost too good to be true! I pack a tea pot somewhat firmly with leaves, fill with water and bring to a boil then let simmer for 20 minutes. This makes a dark concentrate that I then refrigerate. I dilute an ounce or two of this with water for the desired strength and sweeten with sugar. I recommend you start with a light amber colored solution at first - This is very powerful tea. One cup at 8:00 AM, another at 2:00 PM works best for me. I don't drink any after 5:00 PM as it may keep me awake that night.

&amp;nbsp;

Recipe 2.- By Benoit G. (France)

This recipe is very good, warming and stimulating, perfect for cold winter days. The amount of leaves to use depends on taste, I would use 15 grams (15 teabags) for one liter as a good base. Surprisingly the taste doesn't vary much with more coca.

take one liter of red wine ( I use Bordeaux wine)

add 4 teaspoons of brown sugar ( to taste)

4 sticks of cinnamon

one tablespoonful of grated ginger

4 cardamom pods

4 star anise seed pods (badian anis)

5 cloves

1 teaspoon grated nutmeg

a dash of liquor, say, brandy, or cognac, or even a little rum or whiskey ( to taste)

half a sliced orange or two tablespoons of orange juice

a tablespoon of lemon juice or a lemon peel

15 grams of coca leaves

Put wine, coca and spices and orange + lemon in a pot and stir. Put pot on a gentle heat while stirring for a few minutes, then bring to a boil for a few seconds, then bring the heat down to barely simmering. Add the sugar and liquor. Cover and let sit for 5 minutes, then serve in mugs, filtering with a strainer. Enjoy !

martes 15 julio, 2008
Semi-dry red wine of low alcoholic content ,which contains an appropriate amount of coca leaf extract and aromatic spices. All this gives as a result a controlled levels of alkaloids and micro-nutrients, according to official analyses and certificates.It is important to mention that the extract of coca leaves in wine brings all of its active elements and benefits, such as minerals ,vitamins and aminoacids, of which we can highlight calcium, iron, phosphorus, and vitamin A and B complex. The wine is also rich with tannins, flavonoids, salicilates and many other beneficial substances for our health.The main qualities and benefits of this wine are follows: It's a natural invigorating wine of prompt action. Suppresses fatigue and stress. Equilibrates and raises mood. Help heart and circulation system health Relieves throat inflammation and hoarseness. Improves muscular tone and activity. Original and pleasant taste. With respect to the amount of alkaloids, this levels are similar or higher, than coca tea. Nevertheless, the fusion between the wine and coca extracts produce a synergy of interesting results.

Bottle of 100 caps X 300 mg. Cholesterol reducer. Caigua possesses valuable action as hypotensor. It reduces the sanguine cholesterol and it prevents the cardiac and coronary diseases. Traditionally used for reduce fat. Scientific Info A study made by Peruvian doctors in 1,995 from the prestigious Peruana Cayetano Heredia University says that the dried Caigua pills cut "bad" LDL cholesterol levels by a third and raise "good" HDL cholesterol levels by more than a third. Barbara Levine, PhD, co-director of the Human Nutrition Program at New York's Rockefeller University, says this is a very impressive result. The notes that their findings appeared in a respected journal -- The Journal of the North American Menopause Society. The 1995 study, by Gustavo F. Gonzales, MD, and colleagues of Peruana Cayetano Heredia University in Lima, Peru, found that it took daily doses of six caigua capsules to lower cholesterol. The study lasted 12 weeks. Here the results after 12 weeks with daily doses of six caigua capsules:
A reduction of 18% in the Seric-cholesterol. A reduction of 23% in the LDL-Cholesterol. An increase of 42% in the HDL-Cholesterol.

Yacon (Smallanthus sonchifolia)
Model : 100g
martes 22 diciembre, 2009
Manufacturer : Andina Real
Yacon, Smallanthus sonchifolia. Research has proven that is beneficial for those with hypertension. By thinning the blood Yacon can lower blood pressure by 5 to 10 percent. It can also lower cholesterol and discourage clot formation. Unfortunately, Yacon has a reputation for being a Diabetes but it is also excellent to reduce the hypertension problems.. Dr. H Brams said yacon roots themselves had not been proven to have the same palliative effect as the Yacon leaves. Even so, yacon is now popularly associated in Peru with diabetes, though other benefits such as its laxative quality and ability to help prevent colon cancer and osteoporosis are less well known. In a laboratory study using rats, it was found that the administration of a decoction of ten-percent yacon produced a significant decrease in plasma glucose levels. Also the administration of yacon tea ad libitum for 30 days produced a significant improvement in plasma glucose, plasma insulin levels, body weight, creatinine clearance, urinary albumin excretion on diabetic-prone rats as compared to the diabetic controls. A Japanese patent suggests the use of a blend of yacon leaves and leaves of oolong tea to control blood sugar level, high cholesterol level and body weight gain. A Japanese company released a product containing an extract of red rice and yacon for the control of hyperglycemia and lowering cholesterol and triglycerides (Monocolin, Maruzen Pharmaceuticals). Yacon has high concentration of fructooligosaccharides (FOS) which beneficial bacteria (probiotics) like Lactobacillus acidophilus, Lactobacillus plantarum and Bifidobacterium bifidum are able to utilized. Yacon has a high concentration of fructooligosaccharides which has several health properties: Low sugar level
